Mazel Tov on your decision to run for a regional board position! You have already completed your first task as a candidate...deciding to run for office. It is exciting to know that the future of NFTY-SW lies in the hands of such enthusiastic leaders. It is important that you understand the many duties and obligations required of the six Regional Board positions. All require dedication, a significant amount of your time, and a financial commitment. Please read over this material with your parent/guardian and your advisor and discuss with them what being on regional board will mean for you.

As a NFTY-SW Regional Board member, you will be held to a higher standard than the other NFTYites. You will be expected to follow and uphold the B'rit Kehillah at all times during all NFTY events, and failure to do so may result in removal from regional board along with additional consequences. You are expected to set a good example at all TYP (Temple Youth Programs) and regional events, North American events, and URJ summer programs. Your peers are the body of people who will vote you into office and they will hold you responsible for your actions and your duties.

In order to be accepted as a candidate, you need to send back the Regional Board Contract. It is mandatory that you, your parent/guardian, your local advisor and your congregational clergy sign this contract that will be in effect throughout your term. Your signature on the contract states that you understand the responsibilities associated with being on Regional Board, and are willing to meet all expectations if elected. To be considered as a candidate, all election documents must be received by the deadline. The application process for NFTY-SW Regional Board requires that you speak with the person currently holding any position you may run for. This may seem like a lot of work just to run, but remember that being on the regional board is a big responsibility. Take the time to consider, if you can't meet this deadline, will you be able to juggle the demands of school, home, and NFTY?

Keep in mind that you will be making a short speech (5 min. for presidential candidates, 3 for everyone else) on Friday or Saturday of Spring Kallah in addition to the Meet the Candidates session. Speeches should be just that...a speech. No audio-visual aids are permitted. If you are running from abroad, you must record your speech in one take, as if you were giving the speech live.

I am looking forward to next year. NFTY-SW is a fabulous region and I can't wait for another great year. The role of each Board member will be very important. I have high expectations for all board members to work hard and shine as leaders! Good Luck! Feel free to call me with any questions or concerns you may have about running for Regional Board.

Dear NFTY-SW parent,

You are receiving this letter because your teen has decided to run for a position on the NFTY Southwest regional board. It is so exciting that your teen is dedicated to a Jewish youth organization and wants to explore their leadership potential!

I hope that your teen has taken the time to discuss their decision with you. Making the decision to run for a regional office is easy for some, and for others it is something that they consider at great length. The reality remains that a regional board position requires a high level of commitment from any high school student. Some teens find it difficult to serve on the regional board while participating in school sports, performing arts, or other extra curricular activities. In this light, it is very important that each candidate, as well as their parents, be aware of the demands of a regional board position.

Of course school and grades will continue to be a priority during the year that your child serves on the regional board. Your child will hopefully learn time management skills, and will keep a balance of schoolwork, NFTY, and typical high school activities. You may want to discuss with your child whether they will feel overwhelmed if faced with too many extracurricular activities, and if they will need to cut down on other time consuming activities if elected to serve on the regional board.

The time commitment that will be asked of your teen is the following:

- 1) Attendance at all regional events.
- 2) Attendance at regularly scheduled board meetings. These generally include weekly virtual meetings plus two in-person meetings.
- 3) Work to prepare for regional events.
- 4) Participation in Mechina in June, and NFTY Convention, President's weekend, in February. These are important North America events.
- 5) Impromptu or emergency board functions.

Naturally, there are situations where there is a prior family commitment, or where travel is simply not a possibility. These situations will be given consideration. The financial responsibilities of a board member are the following:

- 1) Your teen will be expected to attend and pay for every regional event. Regional board members pay 1/2 of the cost of each NFTY-SW event (not including flight surcharge) provided they register on time, and meet all deadlines in completing their responsibilities for the event.
- 2) Participation in Mechina in June, and NFTY Convention in February. These are important North American events; Mechina is held in Northern California at the URJ Camp Newman Campus at Cal Maritime and NFTY Convention is President's Weekend at URJ Green Family Camp in Texas. The region will be able to supply some funds to help cover these costs. You will also be responsible for the flights for these.

3) Your teen will also be invited to (and would greatly benefit from) the Teen Leadership Summit, June 12-21, at URJ Camp Newman (in California) this summer. Although it is not mandatory that your child attends this program, it is strongly encouraged.

4) Depending on your teen’s position on the regional board, they may be asked to purchase supplies, copies, etc., and then be reimbursed. I will do my best to get reimbursement checks back to you within three weeks after I receive the receipts.

If elected, your teen will be a regional officer. They are expected to follow and uphold the NFTY Code of Conduct at all times during events. If they fail to do so, they will be removed from their position in addition to receiving additional consequences.

Holding a position on the Regional Board can be an extremely fulfilling and rewarding experience. As the NFTY-SW Director, I will be working closely with the board to provide support, and to help them to work together as a team. This is a wonderful opportunity for your teen to learn and enhance leadership, time management, and communication skills, as well as create wonderful memories. I commend your teen for deciding to take the risk and run for a position.

I welcome setting up time to meet with parents/teens before they run for regional board. If you have any questions regarding positions on the regional board, or would like to set up a meeting, please call me at 212-452-6754, or email at ewynn@urj.org. I look forward to keeping communication open with the parents of our Regional Board Members.

Sincerely,

- Attend NFTY's Mechina and NFTY Convention and serve as a representative of NFTY-SW.

Below are some of the Duties of Regional Officers

PRESIDENT:

President is a position unlike all the others. It is the least defined yet somehow the most obvious. It's often said that the president should be qualified for every other position. It requires a high level of adaptivity, responsibility, and maturity. You are often in a position where you find yourself needing to be a strong leader such as when getting a group quiet or announcing a decision. It requires and allows the opportunity to connect with your network and to work with others across North America. You are offered many opportunities to travel that add to the position. The core of this position is really adaptability and working with others.

- Communicate with all NFTY-Southwest Board members regularly in order to oversee, support, and assist them in all endeavors and ensure they are performing to the best of their abilities
- Maintaining a network on both the TYG and North American level
- Working closely with the Regional Director to ensure all elements of an event run well

- Communicating with your board, the region, as well as many others to offer support, and remain aware of all TYG and regional activities.
- Be the spokesperson for NFTY-Southwest and represent NFTY-Southwest to all congregations and other organizations.
- Initiate any new programs and/or projects that would benefit the region and its participants.
- With the Regional Board and NFTY-Southwest Director develop applications for regional chair positions and oversee their activities.

PROGRAMMING VICE-PRESIDENT

- Write programs for regional and local events and serve as the NFTY-Southwest program specialist.
- Serve as a resource for regional board regarding programming
- Serve as a resource for NFTY-SW PVP network.
- Circulate new NFTY programs and programming ideas to the TYGs.
- Maintain communication with TYG Vice Presidents and/or programming chairs; give advice on programming techniques and assist in any way possible.

SOCIAL ACTION VICE-PRESIDENT

- Write Social Action Programs during the year to educate NFTYites on current issues.
- Initiate any new regional programs or drives to fulfill the priorities adopted by NFTY and NFTY-SW.
- Coordinate general social action activity for the region.
- Provide information to NFTYites about the current year's NFTY program priorities.
- Keep up to date on current issues and be able to understand the URJ/RAC stance on the issues.
- Be an advocate and a mediator to help participants get involved on a North American level with committees and organizations

RELIGIOUS & CULTURAL VICE-PRESIDENT

The Religious and Cultural VP position is not just about writing services. It's about having a passion for Judaism and Jewish culture and wanting to help others find that same passion. You also must be willing and able to work well with others.

- Write, plan, and lead all services at events including evening and morning Shabbat services and Havdallah. To be successful, you can never write a service alone. You will work with songleaders, advisors, board members, Torah readers and the Regional Director until you have a product that you are proud of.
- Be responsible for all prayers said during regional events (ie HaMotzi & Birkat Hamazon)
- Write Jewish Religious and Cultural programming and help the other board members incorporate Jewish themes into their programming

MEMBERSHIP VICE-PRESIDENT

The job of Membership Vice President (MVP) is very important to the success of NFTY & NFTY-SW.

Pre-event set up includes recruiting new members, retaining old members, and working to create a fun and inclusive event for all participants.

- Write ice breakers/mixers to help participants get to know each other for each event.
- Help run programs, written by anyone who requests help, set up activities while others are underway, and make sure every member is having a fun time.
- Ensure recruitment for all regional programming including local NFTY678 programs and NFTY Phoenix.
- Responsible for continually improving both the quantity and level of commitment of all members of NFTY-SW.
- Constantly encourage new member participation and organize all events relating to new members.
- Oversee welcoming committee and work with them to make recruitment calls as well as calls to new members.

COMMUNICATIONS VICE-PRESIDENT

The Communications Vice President plays a vital role within the NFTY-Southwest community. Communications are accomplished in a variety of ways, such as: recording minutes during weekly meetings, maintaining contact with other CVPs at the North American level, or by making sure that your regional participants are aware about each event that is scheduled. As Communications Vice President your work will mainly be behind the scenes during events and will be heavily important before and after events.

- Design all NFTY-SW merchandise in consultation with the Regional Board and Regional Director
- Create & schedule social media graphics, videos, or images
- Maintain contact with and support the NFTY-SW Historian & Editor
- Establish & maintain a network with TYG Communications Vice Presidents
- Be in contact with your network on a North American level
- Record & maintain a file containing all:
 - Regional board meeting minutes
 - Asefah Notes

HOW DO I PROCEED?

- I. Thinking about Running. Running for regional office is a decision to be made thoughtfully. Every person must be honest with themselves regarding whether it is a task you really want and are truly capable of performing. You must talk to a current regional board member about what being on regional board entails. You should also consult with your advisor and Rabbi about your decision as this person has worked with you and knows what you are capable of.

Dylan Brooks, current NFTY-Southwest President and I will be conducting a video call to talk about running and answer questions on March 18th at 8pm. If interested in being on this call email nftysw@urj.org.
- II. Letter of Intent. A letter of intent is an official document stating who you are and what position you will be running for. It will be posted on our website, and will be distributed to participants prior to elections. This document needs to be submitted in electronic format (.pdf is preferred to maintain all fonts and picture formatting). This letter should include a brief biographical sketch, a description of your general leadership abilities, and your reasons for seeking office, and your goals for NFTY-SW as they relate to the office you are considering. The maximum length is one typed, one sided page. Letters of intent will be accepted electronically until Sunday, March 29, 2020, and should be sent to nftysw@urj.org.
- III. Candidate Information & Certification/Signature Pages. In addition to your letter of intent, there are several certification pages that must be sent electronically or mailed into the office (address above) and received by March 29, 2020. These papers must be returned in order to run for election. The completed application will also serve as a contract between you and the region. Please reference the last page of this packet for a checklist of required papers and the address to send it to.
- IV. Speech. All candidates will have the opportunity to present a speech to the general board at Spring Kallah. Candidates for the position of Regional President have 5 minutes for their speeches. Candidates for all other positions will have 3 minutes.

WHAT IS THE ELECTION PROCEDURE?

Election procedures will consist of speeches by candidates followed by a round robin "Meet the Candidates". Presidents will have 5 minutes and all other positions have 3 minutes for their speeches. Speeches should be a speech only, no audio-visual aids allowed. Time limits will be strictly enforced. If a candidate chooses to "drop-down" they will be allotted 1 minute to outline a platform for the newly intended position prior to the vote.

Elections will be held by popular vote. Each registered attendee of NFTY-SW at Spring Kallah from the region is allowed a vote in our elections process.

Any candidate who loses his or her election may run down for another position provided that the position has a single candidate. Additionally, any candidate for regional board who is not elected can submit an application to hold one of our appointed general board positions: historian, editor, song leader or spirit chair. We also will accept applications for creative chair positions. We have asked you to indicate your interest as part of this packet.

Campaigning will in no form be allowed. That means, if you are discussing your candidacy with people with the intention of swaying or confirming votes, you have violated the campaigning rule, and your candidacy can be disqualified. If you are unsure if you may do something, it is better to check with Lynne than to be sorry later. Your candidacy may also be disqualified if you intentionally use social media for campaigning purposes, including but not limited to posting new ideas, projects, or programs, or by trying to build connections with the intent to build interest around your candidacy. Other Things a Candidate Cannot Do (At Risk of Disqualification) Distribute material to any NFTYite that discusses the voting procedure in attempt to sway/affect that person's vote. Distribute or share inappropriate or negative material about any candidates. Contacting – including by means of telephone, e-mail, text messaging, IM, etc. – NFTYites (including other candidates) to initiate conversation about the election and its process

WHAT IS THE FINANCIAL OBLIGATION?

- Delegates are eligible for travel equalization to NFTY Board meetings (held at Mechina and NFTY Veida) if conditions are met.
- NFTY-SW Board members pay ½ the cost of each NFTY-SW event provided they register on time, and meet all deadlines in completing their responsibilities for the event.
- NFTY-SW Board members are financially responsible for all North American registration fees, although regional assistance may be available.
- NFTY-SW Board members are financially responsible for transportation to all North American events.

WHAT ARE THE OTHER EXPECTATIONS OF NFTY-SW REGIONAL BOARD MEMBERS?

Role Model – Recognize that members of NFTY-SW look to you to set an example. Be aware of your behavior and attitude at all times, even when you are not actively leading. Lead by example, even more so when it comes to issues outlined in the NFTY B'rit Kehillah.

Approachability – Regional Board members should always be approachable. At NFTY-SW events, it is easy to spend your “down” time with participants you already know or other members of the regional board, but it is important to remember that you will represent the whole region, and everyone should have access to you. There are always new people to meet and get to know.

Attendance – As a role model, you should be attending NFTY-SW events, NFTY North American events, and other URJ programs (when applicable). School and family should always be a priority, but running for NFTY-SW Regional Board means you are making a commitment that NFTY-SW will be a primary extra-curricular activity.

Communication – It is expected that you will maintain open lines of communication with your fellow board members and Regional Director.
